

Interactive Session on Preparing for Masters in Psychology

Date: 1st July 2023

Time- 10.00 am

Venue:Room No 603

Resource Person- Ms. Vedanti Gughe, Alumnus of the Department

No. of Students -30

Objectives- To inform students of Third Year Psychology about various Courses and Institutes available for Hogher Education in Psychology. To help them understane the process of applying for various Universities.

Report:

A group of 30 students of SY and TY Psychology were eagerly waiting to meet their senior from the Department , the alumnus Ms.Vedanti Ghurge who is pursuing Masters in Psychology from the University Department of Applied Psychology (UDAP), University of Mumbai. They welcome her for an interactive session on preparation of Master's degree in with a beautiful art work and a round of applause. Ms. Rina Patel, HOD, Psychology introducing her to the students. The session started with Ms. Vedanti motivating the students to buckle up and study hard as they were to enter a bigger world very soon.. She encouraged the students to get involved in college activities and talked about how public speaking skill is so important . Students were scared of they not getting admission for master's as they had opted for double majors in BA and Vedanti very patiently clarified all the doubts of students .She pointed out the value of writing a research paper and listed out certain sites on which research articles are easily accessible. Vedanti had a great impact on the students when she shared her experience of studying masters in the UDAP. She explained the admission process of different Universities for PG in Psychology. She also specified and shared her experience of applying in few colleges and Universities. Further, Vedanti spoke about her experience in conducting experiment in research and how she wished she had known coding before. In all , the session was a huge success and the students responded well to it .

Outcome-

1. Students got information about various Courses and Universities to which they can apply after Graduating in Psychology.
2. Students understood the importance of reading, conducting research and development of various skills through participation in various Departmental activities.

Preparing for the Masters program in Psychology

Ms. Rina Patel

Coordinator Counselling Centre & HOD Psychology